My dear Miss Hartzell

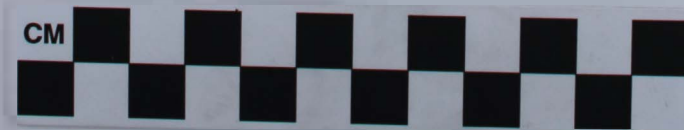

Just a few lines to let you know that our Jack is very happy in his new home. He is quite backward in his studies but he is naturally very bright and will soon advance now. He enjoys being with the other boys and enters into all their sports. I am sure you will see a great change in him during the next few weeks.

The deay boy is all right. We shall be pleased to have you remain for dinner Sunday, and after dinner you and Jack can have a cozy time together in Jack's room where you can rest and talk.

Yours with loving wishes,

Mary Humphreys.

We have had to put Jack back in the baby class for a time at least. He seems to have been utterly neglected, and is such a bright boy too.

My dear, this is a copy of letter received from Jack's teacher. They think he is a very promising child and with care, patience and proper handling he will make an unusual man. I know you will be glad to hear this for Jennie's sake at least. He is looking better every day and is coming along like a Johnny-jump-up, altho there is lots and lots of work to do. Also his little cheeks have commeced to fill out and his eyes are getting so bright. You will have to come and see him when you can.

This is a copy of the letter from the teacher, as she is very busy and is giving Jack more attention than any of the other children I cannot<sup>insist</sup>~~ask~~ her to write more letters than necessary. She is giving Jack this attention without extra compensation; in fact she has lowered her terms.

Excuse haste, but am awfully rushed.

Hope you are feelling better.
